Symptoms

Of Defective Vision

Many persons have the idea that defective vision manifests itself only in a failure or inability to see clearly, but itching, burning, smarting of the lids, dull pains in the eyes or head, even the back of the head, all come from irregularities in the optical construction of the eyes and may be entirely relieved by correctly fitted glasses.

THE NEW ELECTION LAW.

Passed in the House—What the Bill Provides.

The new election law is in its main features a copy of the law in force previous to 1895. The bill provides:

1. That the election for state and county officers shall be held on the first Thursday in August and every two years thereafter.

2. That there shall be a state board of elections composed of five persons elected by the legislature for a term of two years.

3. That there shall be a county board of elections consisting of three persons, appointed by the state board for a term of two years.

4 That state board of elections shall meet in Raleigh the first Monday in May, 1899, and organize by electing one of their number chairman and another secretary. Another meeting shall be held on the first Monday in April in each election year Special meetings may be called when necessary. For their services the board shall receive four dollars a day and traveling expenses.

5 That the county boards shall appoint all registrars and judges of election. Members of the county boards may be removed by the state board; and the county board in turn may remove any registrar or judge of election.

6. That county boards must meet not later than the first Monday in May for organization, and for dividing the counties into precincts and fixing polling places.

7. That before the next general election there shall be an entirely new registration. Among questions to be asked applicant is "whether he has listed his poll for taxation for the current year in which he applies for registration, and for the year next preceeding. And if any applicant shall falsely swear he has listed his poll for taxation, he shall be guilty of perjury, and punished as prescribed by law."

8. That the registration books shall be kept open for twenty days and closed on the second Saturday before the election. On each Saturday during this period the registrar shall go to the polling place to register voters. On such days the books shall be open for inspection by voters of the precinct. There shall be no registering on election day, but voters may be challenged.

9. That on or before the first Monday in July the county board shall appoint two judges of election for each precinct.

10. That to prevent disorder as many as three special officers may be appointed by the registrars and judges of election.

11. That there shall be one ballot for all state officers, one for judges of the different courts, one for members of the general assembly, one for county officers and one for township officers. That all ballots for each of these classes of officers shall be the same size, on white paper and without device. The size of the ballots must be prescribed by the state board of elections. Tickets in the wrong box shall not be counted.

12. That the members of the several boards of election shall constitute the board of county canvassers, which shall meet at the court house the second day after the election, canvass the returns and declare the result at the court house door.

The remainder of the act provides for canvassing the returns for state officers, congressmen and electors, prescribes penalty for performance of the duties set out for officers of the election, and makes other general regulations of elections.

Two "Drunks" Landed.

Officer Jordan yesterday afternoon found and took in tow, Daniel Nash, one of the Seminole Medicine Company's men. Daniel had consumed too much dispensary fluid and had fallen by the wayside. He was was so limp that Mr. Jordan had to call a dray to get him to the lock-up.

Another unfortunate who found himself in the lock-up this morning as a result of the consumption of too much firewater, was John Ringstaff, of Proximity. He got 'loaded for bears' yesterday afternoon and was hunting a scrap when he met Officer Whittington who accepted the challenge and made a bee line for the lock-up.

While the government cannot hope to gain a single additional supporter the government majority yesterday was only t o.

THE POPE REPORTED BETTER.

Rome, Mar. 1—The Pope passed a fairly good night and is better this morning. Dr. Mazzini this morning removed the cyst from his left thigh. The operation was successful and the patient bore it well. It appears that yesterday's symptoms were entirely due to the cyst from which the Pope says he has long suffered. Now there is no trace of fever and the doctor thinks no complications will ensue. Some of the morning papers asserted the Pope was suffering from rheumatic fever, following a chill, and it was feared that pleurisy would supervene.

WILL ALL WANT THEM.

And Greensboro Should Extend an Immediate Invitation.

The Telegram has twice spoken of tour through Dixie of the New England Newspaper League. Mr. G. T. Kearsley, of this city, is in correspondence with the manager, Mr. C. F. King and the following letter was received by him today:

Boston, Mass., Feb. 27, '99.
Mr. G. T. Kearsley,
Greensboro, N. C.

Dear Sir:—I have the pleasure of your esteemed favor of 24th inst., and in reply will state that it will afford our party great pleasure to stop in Greensboro, provided we can arrange our itinerary so that we can do so. I very much fear however that we will be unable to visit all the points that we desire to while on this tour, as our time will be necessarily limited, and already I have received urgent invitations to stop at 54 different points. I would suggest that you confer with Mr. David Schenck, Jr., with whom I enjoy a personal acquaintance, and you can rest assured that should it be the desire of your people to have our party see the advantages and resources of your section, we will make a strong endeavor to accept an invitation to pay Greensboro a visit. Party will be at Hotel Jefferson, Richmond, March 6th and 7th, and a reply to this letter addressed to me there will receive careful and prompt consideration.

Yours very truly,
C. F. King, manager.

We believe Greensboro is thoroughly alive to the value of advertising and that all will readily see how desirable it is that these people be invited to stop here and that the invitation be backed in such a manner that they will stop. Of course Mr. Kearsley will reply to the above letter as directed (he is alive to the interests of Greensboro) but there should, in addition to his personal efforts, be a further expression from the Industrial & Immigration Association, or from any individual who would like to see Greensboro entertain these newspaper men for a day or two.

THE GODFREY FAMILY.

A Remarkable History—Famous as Military Bandmasters.

The greatest name in military music the annals of any country or time have known is that of Dan Godfrey. However, the distinguished bandmaster of the Grenadier Guards is not the only member of the family who has achieved distinction. Dan Godfrey comes by his musical knowledge and gifts as a military leader honestly for his father before him was Charles Godfrey, who became bandmaster of the Coldstream Guards about 1825 and remained at the head of that regimental band for over thirty years. He had several sons, three of whom, Dan, Fred and Charles Godfrey, were bandmasters, and at one time at the head of three crack bands in the army. Dan led the Grenadier Guards, Fred the Coldstreams and Charles the Scotch Fusiliers and afterwards the Royal Horse Guards, but of these brothers (to quote an English newspaper) Lieut. Dan Godfrey was always the people's pet and it is noteworthy that he is the only musical conductor of Her Majesty's service who has received the rank of lieutenant of his regiment.

There was still another brother in this distinguished family, George William Godfrey, the well known playwright who wrote the Parvenu, "The Queen's Shilling," "My Milliner's Bill," and many other plays.

The greatest Godfrey of them is coming to America with the finest military band in the world and the musicians whose fame he has made.

This famous man and his superb band of forty pieces will, by special arrangements, appear at the G. F. College chapel Thursday evening, March 9th. People in town who intend attending this concert will do well to reserve their seats early. An immense number of out of town people are coming and ordering their seats by mail. Seats at Fariss' drug store.

A Narrow Escape.

A gas pipe in the Merchant's Grocery Co's. store, near the meter, about 4:30 o'clock this morning and in some unknown way the gas ignited. It was burning good fashion when the matter was reported to Officers Whittington and Weatherly who hastened to the store, broke in and put the blaze out just in time to prevent a serious conflagration.

PUBLIC BUILDING BILLS.

Elizabeth City and Winston Bills Pass the House.

A LIVELY SCRAMBLE COMING

Over the River and Harbor Bill With Its Nicaraguan Canal Attachment—Other News.

Special to THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, Mar. 1—Under the special order adopted Monday two public bills of interest to North Carolina succeeded in running the gauntlet. The first bill which passed the house was that appropriating $50,000 for the construction of a public building at Elizabeth City, North Carolina, which has been pending for some time. The measure had the support of the entire North Carolina delegation, and went through the house with practically no opposition. The other bill was for the construction of a public building at Winston, North Carolina, which was also supported by the North Carolina delegation, and which went through with very little opposition. The delegation from the state are much pleased at their success in getting these measures through the house and it is hoped they will become laws before adjournment.

For the remaining few days of the session the work of congress is fully mapped out, so far as the house is concerned. This afternoon, it is probable that the army reorganization bill will occupy chief attention and the river and harbor bill may also be reported, in which event there is sure to be a lively scramble over the construction of the Nicaraguan canal. Representative Burton in his opposition to the canal has the support of both Representative Cannon and Speaker Reed. Thursday and Friday in the house will necessarily be devoted to passing upon the various conference reports on the appropriation bills as they are presented, and to such other leaders may consent to have brought forward.

Representative Davis, of Florida, stated that the committee on rivers and harbors will probably report the bill today and the plan is to send the measure at once to conference. No separate action will be demanded on any of the items with the single exception of the canal proposition, but a formal motion to non-concur in all other senate amendments will be adopted. The members of the North Carolina delegation are of the opinion that all of the items of interest to the state, and they are very few, will be retained in the bill, as added by the senate. The principal disagreement in the conference committee will be, it is believed, over the canal proposition, and the item to irrigate the arid lands, both of which items are contested by Chairmen Cannon and Burton.

Among those who attended the reception given Monday night in honor of Mrs. Stonewall Jackson, was Colonel James E. Boyd, of North Carolina, assistant attorney general. The reception was largely attended by southern people, among the guests being Mrs. Mrs. Meredith and Mrs. Claude A. Swanson, of Virginia; General Wheeler and ex-Secretary Hillary A. Herbert. It was given under the auspices of the Confederate Veterans' Association of the District of Columbia.

Senator Tillman, of South Carolina, has introduced an amendment for the appropriation of four million dollars for the erection of a government plant for the manufacture of armor plate. The bill provides for the appointment by the secretary of the navy for the selection of a suitable site, and a board of three officers. The southern representatives and senators are manifesting much interest in the amendment and if it should become a part of the naval appropriation bill, it is believed several southern cities would make a fight to secure the plant. Charleston, S. C., and Newport News would both seek the prize. On account of the vast expenditure necessary it is not thought that the amendment will be successfully pushed during this session.

Among prominent North Carolina people in Washington is Mr. R. G. Glenn, of Greensboro, who is stopping at the Ebbitt House. Mr. Glenn is much pleased with the election law passed by the legislature, and says if it had been in operation last November, the country would have been spared such scenes as occurred at Wilmington. He says that the amendment will be adopted by the voters of North Carolina by a very large majority.

THE GREAT MONEY BILLS.

About To Be Disposed of—Latest Telegraphic News.

By Wire to the TELEGRAM.

Washington, Mar. 1—The house will have disposed of all the great money bills today if the general deficiency bill passes as expected; and under suspension of the rules devote the balance of the week to the consideration of the senate amendments. The principal matters still unsettled are the army and the river and harbor, action on both being expected today. The house military affairs committee is considering the army bill this morning and is expected to report some time today. The conference report on the naval personnel bill will come before both houses today.

The house committee on military affairs disagreed with the senate amendments to the army bill and decided to report to the house today and under suspension of the rules move non-concurrence and reference to the conference committee.

The senate has passed the twenty million appropriation to Spain.

The house has adopted the conference report on the general claims bill. The conference has ordered the sundry civil bill.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH. 1, 1899.

The pen with which Speaker Connor signed the Greensboro dispensary bill has been sent to the Telegram and is now in our possession. It is a plain cedar staff with cork tip, and the point is the celebrated and popular "Falcon." We will preserve it as a souvenir.

Our congenial neighbor, Winston-Salem, has long been entitled to a public building, by reason of the large amount of tobacco tax paid into the treasury, and on that item it has largely based its claims before congress. A bill yesterday passed the house appropriating $50,000 for a public building for that city.

Budyard Kipling, the eminent young literary genius, was taken ill shortly after his arrival in this country and he is still very sick in New York, with two physicians watching him closely. There is much interest manifested in in his case. He is yet quite a young man, scarcely more than a boy; but within many years no literary star, perhaps, has risen so rapidly as he. He has attracted the notice of critics everywhere and the eyes of the world will watch with interest the battle he is now waging with disease.

The Daily Bulletin, issued by the Manufacturers' Record, of yesterday, contains an item stating that a New York company, which controls a large lumber business, desires to make more favorable arrangements on yellow pine, white pine, chestnut, cedar and oak, such as car sills, bridge timber, piling, crossties, etc., for steam and electric railroad use. The address is "Lumber" care of Manufacturers' Record, Baltimore. We give the firm this gratuitous notice in the hope that it may be of service to our local lumber dealers.

We are a little tardy in mentioning the appearance of the Raleigh Christian Advocate, the first number of the new series of which was issued Feb. 23. This was caused by our failure to receive a copy earlier. The paper has been affectionately nicknamed the "Old Raleigh," which carries many Methodist hearts in North Carolina back to the days of Hudson, Bobbitt, Black and Reid. The editor, Dr. T. N. Ivey, has demonstrated his eminent fitness for the position. He is a loyal Methodist, and a desire for the success of the Methodist church and all her auxiliaries lies next to his heart. The new "Old Raleigh" will find a warm welcome in thousands of Methodist homes, and the Advocate, in turn, will do its part by carrying to them the brightest and best religious news and thought.

A Worthy Compliment.

Rev. L. W. Crawford, D. D., editor of the Christian Advocate, published at Greensboro, returned home yesterday. He informs us that he has purchased a new outfit of type and that the Advocate will soon appear in a new spring dress. There never was a time when the Advocate was a better paper than now. Dr. Crawford's wisdom and conservatism has given the paper a strong hoid on the church.—News and Observer.

Not one child dies where ten formerly died from croup. People have learned the value of One Minute Cough Cure and use it for severe lung and throat troubles. It immediately stops coughing. It never fails. Howard Gardner.

Notes of The Prowler

Oh, the mud, the miserable mud;
It's spread all over the earth;
You slip and slide, then fall with a thud,
And make (for the spectators) mirth.

And the Prowler said if that didn't satisfy the public for one day we might also print the following which was handed him by a friend:

There'll come a time some day,
When men will do business this way:
With plenty of cash to buy with,
Day after day.
Think well of what I say—
The dispensary will come to stay
And always remember my story
There'll come a time.

There'll come a time some day,
When men will take care of their pay.
They'll educate all their children
Day after day.
Think well of what I write—
Keep the boys in at night
And always think of the story
There'll come a time.

There'll come a time some day,
When the best trade will come this way;
Merchants and all will be busy
Day after day.
Think well of what I say
People will come here to stay
Then do what you can for Greensboro;
and
There'll come a time.
– Dix.

The Prowler then said he thought that an ample sufficiency for one day and if we did't think so we might write something better. So we let it go.

Judge Simonton Better.

The many Charlotte friends of Judge Charles H. Simonton, of the United States circuit court, will be glad to learn that he has about recovered from his late indisposition. A prominent South Carolina attorney who was in Charlotte this morning tells a News reporter that three weeks ago Judge Simonton was on the eve of resigning his commission on account of his health. He has improved so rapidly that his physicians say it will be only a short while before he will be able to resume his work on the bench. —Charlotte News.

An Honest Medicine for La Grippe,

George W. Waitt of South Gardiner, Mo., says: "I have had the worst cough, cold, chills and grip and have taken lots of trash of no account but profit to the vender. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the only thing that has done any good whatever. I have used one 50-cent bottle and the chills, cold and grip have all left me. I congratulate the manufacturers of an honest medicine." For sale by C. E. Holton.

Cora C. Henderson, a blind woman, and housekeeper for J. W. Holtzlauder, of Chicago, Ill., was found murdered, and Holtzlauder has been arrested.

Dangers of the Grip.

The greatest danger from La Grippe is of its resulting in pneumonia. If reasonable care is used, however, and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy taken, all danger will be avoided. Among the tens of thousands who have used this remedy for la grippe we have yet to learn of a single case having resulted in pneumonia which shows conclusively that this remedy is a certain preventive of that dangerous disease. It will cure la grippe in less time than any other treatment. It is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by C. E. Holton.

Oh, the Pain of Rheumatism!

Rheumatism often causes the most intense suffering. Many have for years vainly sought relief from this disabling disease, and are to-day worse off than ever. Rheumatism is a blood disease, and Swift's Specific is the only cure, because it is the only remedy which can reach such deep-seated diseases.

A few years ago I was taken with inflammatory Rheumatism, which became so intense that I was for weeks unable to walk. I tried several prominent physicians and took their treatment faithfully, but was unable to get the slightest relief. In fact, my condition seemed to grow worse, the disease spread over my entire body, and from November to March I suffered agony. I tried many patent medicines, but none relieved me. Upon the advice of a friend I decided to try

S. S. S. Before allowing me to take it, however, my guardian, who was a chemist, analyzed the remedy, and pronounced it free of potash or mercury. I felt so much better after taking two bottles, that I continued the remedy, and in two months I was cured completely. The cure was permanent, for I have never since had a touch of Rheumatism though many times exposed to damp and cold weather.

Elizabeth Cromwell.

Cromwell legends are so ubiquitous in England that it is a real relief to lay one's hand upon a bit of solid fact relating either to the protector or his family. Elizabeth, the second and favorite daughter of Cromwell, married John Claypole of Northborough, and appears to have spent a considerable portion of her 12 years of wedded life in his substantial fourteenth century house. Carlyle asserts Elizabeth Claypole to have been "a graceful, brave and amiable woman," and of her home that it is "now ruined—patched into a farmhouse."

The second statement is not characterized by his usual accuracy, and the first probably needs some modification, for Elizabeth Claypole is credited with some turning of her head over her father's elevation, and at a wedding feast is reported to have exclaimed, when asked why the wives of the major generals were absent, "I'll warrant you, washing their dishes at home, as they used to do." Not a particularly "amiable" sentence that.

Cromwell seems to have had some insight of her little weakness. "Tell her," he wrote once, "to take heed of a departing heart and of being cozened with worldly vanities and worldly company, which, I doubt, she is too subject to." It is agreed by most authorities that John Claypole himself was little enough of a Puritan, but let it stand to his credit that, after Oliver died, he provided a haven for his widow for the rest of her life in this manor house.—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

Barbers on the Ocean.

One of the most important persons on board a well equipped ocean liner is the barber. If he is gifted with a good business instinct, he is in a position to make a good deal of money.

To the average man shaving while at sea is a difficult and hazardous operation. He therefore calls into requisition the services of the ship's barber, a man who by long training is qualified to wield the razor with skill and safety, no matter how much the vessel rolls or pitches.

He is always one of the most heavily "tipped" officials on the ship. If the ship travels on a route with interesting ports of call, the ship's barber makes it his business to lay in a stock of native knickknacks and curios of all kinds.

The inexperienced traveler is naturally a little suspicious of the native peddlers who swarm on board with their wares directly the ship is at anchor. He prefers to purchase his mementos of foreign travel of the barber, who, having bought his stock at wholesale rates, is able to retail the various articles to passengers at prices little if at all higher than those charged by the native tradesman.—Exchange.

Goldsmith's Actor.

Lord Nugent was one evening very eloquent to Goldsmith in praise of M. (a bad actor). "But, my lord," said Goldsmith, "you must allow he treads the stage very ill—he waddles." "Waddles?" said Lord Nugent. "Yes, he waddles like a goose. Why, you know we call him Goose M." "Well, and then, you know, when he endeavors to express strong passion he bellows." "Bellows?" said Lord Nugent. "To be sure he does—bellows like a bull. Why, we call him Bull M." "Well, then," continued Goldsmith, pursuing his triumph, "his voice breaks and he croaks." "Croaks?" said Lord Nugent. "Why, the fellow croaks like a frog. We call him Frog M. But M. is a good actor."

"Why, yes," said Goldsmith, "barring the goose, and the bull, and the frog, and a few other things I could mention, and not wishing to speak ill of my neighbors, I will allow M. is a good actor."—"Memoirs of the Earl of Nugent."

The Sea Gull and the Fisherman.

In the fishing village of Auchmithie (the Musselcraig of Scott's "Antiquary") you may frequently witness sea gulls flying into the houses of the fishermen and partaking of food from their hands. One of these sea birds was in the habit of staying in a fisherman's house all the year round except at the breeding season, when it left. Quite recently, while the gull was away, the fisherman removed his home from Auchmithie to Arbroath (the Fairport of Scott's "Antiquary"), distant some 8½ miles from the former place, taking up his residence in South street of Arbroath. The fisherman never expected to see his old friend the gull again. It was therefore much to his astonishment that he beheld a fortnight later the sea bird come walking into his new residence with stately steps to resume his old familiarities and household ways with his housekeeper.—London Lady.

The Better Drawer.

"Your money or your life!" cried the robber.

"Ha, ha!" laughed the artist, and drew a pistol. The artist had no money, and, according to the critics, not much life, but that was not why he laughed. He laughed because he belonged to the school which draws rapidly and boldly rather than the school which draws laboriously, with great attention to detail.—Detroit Journal.

London Landlords.

There is perhaps no tenant who is so completely at the mercy of his landlord as the occupier of a house in London which belongs to one of the great ground landlords. He is an absolute prisoner within the four corners of his lease. The slightest deviation is accompanied with pains and penalties, but, on the other hand, the landlord reserves all kinds of privileges to himself.

Very little furniture is used in the bedrooms of Turkish houses. Rarely is a chair seen in any of them. A few mats adorn the room, and the bed is stretched on the floor.

NORTH CAROLINA,
GUILFORD COUNTY.

By virtue of the powers conferred upon me in a certain order made by the Superior Court of Guilford county in a cause therein pending, entitled Mrs Nellie Albright, et al., ex parte, I will, as commissioner, sell at the court house door in Greensboro on the first Monday in March, (it being the sixth day) to the highest bidder at public auction, for cash, the following described land and premises, to-wit:

A house and lot on Cedar street, in the city of Greensboro and fronting on said street 82½ feet and running back about 300 feet and adjoining the lands of T. M. Pickard on the north, Bob Aiken on the south, J. W. Richardson on the west, and others, containing one-half of one acre, more or less. Upon which is situated a nice five room cottage, good well and a barn. It being the home place of Joe Albright, deceased.

This 28th day of January, 1899.

A. L. BROOKS, Commissioner.

THISTLE DOWNS.

Lighter and whiter than a flying flake
Of winter snows through wan air winnowing,
The thistle downs their sudden journeys take
O'er meadows wide in vagrant wandering.
No more shall they to earth reluctant cling
As a moss lined and slowly sinking stone
Left lying in an outer waste alone.
Beside the edge of some remote morass,
But high they toss above the fields new mown,
Like disembodied spirits of the grass.

The drowsy atmosphere in lines opaque
Leans to the sun, that fast is gathering
The last faint dews, his fiery thirst to slack,
While swallows dip, on ever restless wing.
Across a dusty road the robins sing,
And bumblebees upon the clover drone,
While thistle downs in airy spaces lone
Along the skies in happy freedom pass,
Voyaging afar to mystic climes unknown,
Like disembodied spirits of the grass.

TRICKS OF A MIND READER.

The Simple Explanation of an Apparently Difficult Feat.

"Speaking of telegraphy," said a gentleman who takes an interest in occult studies, "reminds of an incident which created a great stir some years ago, but is now about forgotten. A New York lawyer, who claimed to be able to project thought, had a committee of skeptics select a playing card at random and then wired a friend in San Francisco, asking him to think of a card and telegraph back what one came into his mind. The card selected was the five of spades and the reply was correct. All the parties were well known, and the experiment caused an immense sensation.

"The newspapers discussed it by the column, and it was exploited as a positive demonstration of thought transference, but as a matter of fact the whole thing was merely a clever trick. I had it afterward explained to me by one of the people on the inside. It had been prearranged with the San Francisco man that the cue to the right card was to be the wording of the message. The denomination was indicated by the number of words in the second sentence. If, for instance, it was an ace, the sentence would be only one word, 'Answer;' if a deuce it would be 'Answer immediately,' and so on.

"As it happened to be a five the message ran, 'Telegraph reply quickly as possible.' The suit of the card was revealed by the signature. Signing the name in full meant hearts, the first only meant clubs, the last name meant spades, and the initials meant diamonds. The system was beautifully simple, and the message seemed on its face perfectly innocent. It was carefully examined to find a hidden word, but baffled the investigators. As far as I know, the truth about the affair has never been printed."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Diplomacy.

One day a gentleman was holding a conversation with his wife in the presence of their 5-year-old son, and among other things mentioned was "diplomacy."

"Pa," said the youngster when a break in the conversation allowed him to interfere, "what does diplomacy mean?"

"Diplomacy, my son," said the father, "is this—doing exactly the right thing at exactly the right moment."

"Then I suppose I used diplomacy when I got out of the pantry yesterday, dad, did I?"

"What do you mean?" was the reply.

"Why," said the son, "I got into the back yard with that meat pie just at the moment ma caught the cat in the pantry and told you to drown her for thieving."—Pearson's Weekly.

He Wasn't Proud.

The London Telegraph says that while a certain bishop was waiting for a train at Waterloo station, a porter, who often sees him into a compartment and shuts the door, in order that his lordship may be alone, came up to him in a state of excitement and asked:

"Your reverence, do you see that gentleman standing in the doorway over there?"

"Yes," answered the bishop.

"Do you know who it is?" continued the porter.

"No," said his lordship.

The railway man then whispered: "It's the 'Coffee Cooler,' your reverence. Oh, he ain't proud! He'll shake hands with your reverence if you like."

The "Coffee Cooler" is a noted colored prizefighter.

Ingrowing Nails.

To prevent an ingrowing nail a strip of cotton should be worked between the nail and the flesh, left large enough to cover the entire nail. A piece of cotton is then twisted into a long roll and placed on the other side of the nail groove over the sound skin. The space between is filled with lead nitrate, heaped up, and the larger piece of cotton folded over it, with more cotton outside, held in place with a moist bandage. This dressing is renewed every day, and in two or three the exuberance is reduced until the edge of the nail can be seen, and cotton inserted between it and the flesh beneath, when the nitrate can be discontinued.

Mormonism.

The good wife looked at her mending basket and sighed. If she hadn't seen them there she wouldn't have believed her husband could have worn holes in so many pairs of socks in so short a time.

"There are occasions," she said at last, "when I am almost ready to believe that it would be a good thing for a man to be a Mormon."

Then she went at the job she would willingly have shared with a few other wives.—Chicago Post.

In 1850 the tallest building in New York was only five stories high, and the church spires were conspicuous above them. Now there is only one spire in the city as high as the tallest building.

A Clever Trick.

It certainly looks like it, but there is really no trick about it. Anybody can try it who has lame back or weak kidneys, malaria or nervous troubles. We mean he can cure himself right away by using Electric Bitters. This medicine tones up the whole system, acts as a stimulant to liver and kidneys, is a blood purifier and nerve tonic. It cures constipation, headache, fainting spells, sleeplessness and melancholy. It is purely vegetable, a mild laxative, and restores the system to its natural vigor. Try Electric Bitters and be convinced that they are a miracle worker. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50c a bottle at C. E. Hoyton's drug store.

Florida and the South.

Opening of the Social Season and Inauguration of the Magnificent

New York & Florida Limited Service

JANUARY 16, 1899.

The opening of the Florida season will be signalized this year as usual by the placing in service of the "New York and Florida Limited" between New York and St. Augustine, Fla. This is acknowledged to be the finest train in the world, in its appointments, luxury and detail of finish, and the first of these trains was constructed by the Pullman company for the use of the President of the United States on official tours.

"The New York and Florida Limited" leaves New York daily except Sunday at 11:50 a. m., via the pennsylvania Railroad, the Southern Railway, Florida Central & Peninsular R. R. and the Florida East Coast Railway, and reaches St. Augustine at 2.20 p. m. the following day, making the run, which exceeds 1,000 miles, in little more than twenty-four hours. No train has attracted so much attention, and its fame has been heralded wherever railroading is known. It is composed of Pullman compartment cars, each room being finished in different woods and supplied with private lavatory and toilet; Pullman drawing-room sleeping cars of the latest pattern and finish; a royal club car for the gentlemen; an observation car with a handsome drawing room at its rear opening on to a wide platform; a library car, and dining car, in which the service and the cuisine rank with the finest New York hotels. This "New York and Florida Limited" runs through solid to St. Augustine with the exception of one car which is detached at Columbia, S. C., and goes through to Aiken, which it reaches at 9:35 the next morning after leaving New York, and Augusta at 9:50. Brunswick and Jeckyl Island are conveniently reached by this train at 12 o'clock noon through the perfect connections afforded at Everett, Ga.

There are two other fine trains between New York and Florida, via "The Florida Short Line," one the "Washington and Southwestern Vestibule Limited," leaving New York at 4:20 p. m. daily, and the "United States Fast Mail," leaving New York at 12:05 midnight. The former train carries through Pullman drawing room sleeping cars between New York, Jacksonville and Tampa, and also offers Pullman sleeping car service between New York and Augusta, Ga., with connections for Aiken, Brunswick and Jekyl Island. The latter carries through drawing room sleeping cars between New York and Jacksonville, connecting with parlor car service to points on F. C. & P. R. R. and F. E. C. Ry. Dining cars are operated on all trains of the Southern Ry. "The Florida Short Line" in connection with the Florida East Coast Railway to Miami offers the most direct, quickest and delightful service to Nassau, Havana and Key West. For full information, reservations, etc., apply to J. L. Adams, G. E. A., F. C. & P. R. R., 353 Broadway, New York, or to A. S. Thweatt, E. P. A., Southern Ry, 271 Broadway, New York.

WINE OF CARDUI

A SURE MEDICINE.

HANDSOM, VA., Dec. 31.

I have been suffering from female weakness for four years, and have taken many medicines, but Wine of Cardui and Black-Draught have done more for me than anything else.

MRS. CAROLINE EVANS.

McELREE'S
Wine of Cardui

It is a mistake to take any and every kind of medicine when you are sick. There is danger in it. Most of the so-called cures for "female weakness" do nothing more than deaden the pain temporarily, and when the effect wears away the patient is weaker and sicker than before. It is never wise to take chances. You have only one life, and that is dear and precious. If you have any pain, ache, disorder or weakness in the feminine organs, nothing will help you like Wine of Cardui. It helps do away with morning sickness during the early stages of pregnancy, and modifies the pains of childbirth; recovery is rapid and future health is assured. The Wine is purely vegetable, being made of herbs whose medicinal properties act directly upon the organs of womanhood. It is a long-tried remedy, and has many years of success behind it. It is sure. Why take a chance medicine when you can get a sure medicine?

The Seminole Remedy company last night showed to a fair sized audience composed almost entirely of men and boys. The show is of course good for nothing but fun and but for a very good burnt cork comedian, this would be scarce. They will be here all the week.
